BURIAL OF CAPTAIN REILLY.

BODY LAID IN LEGATION GROUNDS.

Officers and Civilians Present—The Body of Baron Ketteler Was Found in a Chinese Cemetery and Will be Buried Among Christians—Fighting Breaking Out at Tien-Tsin.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pekin, Aug 24—Capt. Reilly of the American army, killed in the relief of Pekin was buried in the legation grounds. General Chaffee, and the British and Japanse Generals were present, together with many civilians.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, August 24—Admiral Remey cables from Taku under date of August 22: "The cable is open to Taku. All the troops from the Hancock are landed. The marines have gone to Tien-Tsin. A private in Wood's marine corps has been accidentally drowned. The Hancock carried four companies of the 15th Infantry, four battallions of the 3rd Artillery and about 500 marines."

Consul Johnson, of Amoy, China, cabled this morning that the Japanse temple at amoy has been burned by a Chinese mob, and that the marines were handled to protect Japanese officers while order was being restored.

An official despatch received at Tokio from Pekin says the allies have burned the residence of Prince Tuan.

A telegram says the casualties during the seige were 75 killed and 120 wounded.

KETTELER'S BODY FOUND.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—A Pekin despatch says that the body of Baron Von Ketteler was found in the Chinese cemetery near where he was assasinated. It was found on examination that death was caused by a bullet in the head. The body will be reinterred in a Christian cemetery.

FIGHTING AGAIN AT TIEN-TSIN.

London, Aug. 24—A dispatch from Tien-Tsin says the fighting has been resumed in that vicinity, the Chinese attempting to cut the communications of the allies, but were repulsed. It says that the loss of the allies was slight.

NO MORE TROOPS FOR CHINA.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The important development in the Chinese situation today was the decision of the government not to send any more troops to China. All the troops at sea, amounting to about 4,000, together with those under orders for service in the far East which have not sailed, amounting to about 3,000 more, will be sent to Manila, unless there are developments in China, not expected, which would make their presence in that country necessary. Secretary Root said today that no more troops were being sent to China because they were not needed. With the arrival at Taku of the Hancock and the troops she carried, General Chaffee will have 5,000 available men, which is thought to be sufficient for all present purposes. The decision of the department was not based upon any recommendation made by General Chaffee, but upon reports received by him, which made it apparent that no more troops were needed.

IN THE WAKE OF RELIEF.

London, Aug. 24, 3:50 a. m.—Fires, fighting and dissension are apparently following in the wake of the relief of Pekin. The Daily Mail publishes dispatches from the Chinese capital as late as August 17, declaring that a great fire was then raging in the imperial city. The Russian commander had declined to accept the decision of the other generals not to violate the imperial precincts and street fighting was going on. General Chafee, so it is asserted, maintained that the Chinese had been adequately punished already and that it would be unwise to take the imperial palace. This explains the withdrawal of the Americans after breaching three gates, as cabled by the special correspondent of the Associated Press. The Russian general, however, maintained that his government had declared war against China, and that, therefore, there was no reason to prevent him carrying hostilities into the sacred precincts. Judging from various and in many cases contradictory dispatches that have reached Europe this morning from Pekin, the commanders eventually adopted a middle course, for a Reuter telegram asserts that sentries were placed to prevent looting. Since it is presumed that the imperial buildings, although captured, will not be destroyed unless by the Chinese themselves.

All the dispatches point to the fact that when the latest dispatches received here left Pekin, the commanders were somewhat at sea regarding their future action, all awaiting instructions from their governments.

The foreign residents appear to have been sent to Tien-Tsin although the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail says the ministers will not leave Pekin until negotiations for indemnity, are under way. Neither the commanders nor the diplomats were in communication with the Chinese government on August 17. They were then searching for Prince Tuan.

British Steamer Wrecked.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Aden, Aug. 24.—The British steamer Ingra, bound for New York, is ashore near Camp Gardsful, Africa, and is probably a total loss. Capt. Burkwell and eight Europeans and twenty blacks, members of the crew, have been picked up. The rest are missing. They took boats and may have reached the coast. African savages are plundering the wreck.

Court Record.

In the Superior Court today Emma Smith, colored, was acquitted of an assault.

Cornelius Gant, colored, was found guilty of stealing a 15-cent apron from 'Squire Sims and sentenced to the roads for four months.

Ben Wilkinson was fined $200 for retailing whisky.

Several cases were nol prossed this morning.

Will Teach in Rackingham.

Prof. G. E. Petty, who for the past year or two has been principal of the Concord Graded Schools, will teach in Rockingham, Richmond county, the next school year. He will have charge of a flourishing high school. Prof. Petty left this afternoon for Rockingham to arrange for the opening of his school.

A Full Grown Melon.

Miss Minnie Lyon, on Lindsay street, is, or was today, the possessor of the largest watermelon of the season. It was a present from a friend and was 28 inches long and 40 inches in circumference, weighing 65 pounds.

Opticians Meet Next in Raleigh.

The North Carolina State Optical Society adjourned yesterday afternoon after a pleasant and profitable session in this city. The next meeting of the society will be held in Raleigh in January, 1901.

How to Make White Gingerbread.

Ingredients necessary are one pound of flour, half a pound of butter, one ounce of ground ginger, the rind of one lemon, half a pound of powdered sugar, grated nutmeg, half a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda and one gill of milk. Rub the butter well into the flour, add the sugar and the grated lemon peel, ginger and nutmeg. Mix these thoroughly together, make the milk just warm, stir in the soda and work all into a smooth paste. Roll it out, cut into cakes and bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes.

How to Make Chicken Jelly.

Pound with a mallet half a raw chicken, bones and meat, and cover with a quart of cold water. Heat slowly in a covered vessel and simmer until the meat is worthless and the liquid reduced one-half. Strain and press first through a colander, then through a coarse cloth. Salt to taste, return to the fire and simmer for five minutes longer. Skim when cool and serve cold with wafers or as the filling to sandwiches.

How to Make Egg Sandwiches.

Cut the top nearly off of five rolls that are a little stale; remove all the crumbs and soft part possible and fill with a stuffing of cooked chicken (veal, tongue or any meat desired), finely chopped with a teaspoonful of celery salt, a tablespoonful of minced parsley, pepper if needed and half a cup of melted butter; to each roll allow one egg yolk, hard voiled and mashed with the other ingredients. Fill the rolls, shut the top, moisten all over with milk and place in a moderate oven for 20 minutes.

MADAM DREYFUS MAY SUCCEED

COMPLETE VINDICATION OF DREYFUS

The Energetic Wife's Efforts in Behalf of Her Husband May at Last Bear Fruit—If They do, President Loubet Will Immediately Retire.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The tireless efforts of Madame Dreyfus to secure the complete vindication of her husband, Captain Alfred Dreyfus, have at last borne fruit. The President is preparing a message asking general amnesty for Dreyfus, Riquart and five other persons sentenced by the high court. It was stated that President Loubet would afterwards retire from the presidency.

FIRE AT BORDEAUX.

A big fire is raging at Bordeaux. Fifteen houses have already been destroyed and the fire is spreading.

THE SHOOTING NOT ACCIDENTAL.

So Says Alex. Jordon's Wife--The Woman Is In a Precarious Condition and May Die.

It has been reported that the wife of Alex. Jordan, colored, who was shot by her husband about two weeks ago, was improving and corroborated her husband in the statement that the shooting was accidental. It was learned, today, however, that the woman is still confined to her bed. The attending physician says she is in a precarious condition and may die. The ball entered her left cheek, just below the eye, and ranged downward, passing out under the jaw.

The wounded woman says her husband came in about 11:30 o'clock on the night of the shooting, and when she remonstrated with him for staying out so late, he became abusive and talked to her in a threatening manner. Fearing he might do something violent, she went into another room and was followed by her husband, who drew a revolver and fired on her as she was sitting on a bed by the side of her young child.

Col. John A. Barringer has been retained to prosecute Jordan.

FELL FROM THE TRAIN.

The Porter on the Northbound Local Injured at High Point This Morning.

The negro porter on the northbound local train, which reaches here at 7:58 fell from the train just as it was leaving High Point this morning and suffered a painful injury. He was standing on the rear platform when the southbound vestibule passed and says the fireman on the latter train threw hot water on him. This startled him and caused him to lose his balance. He fell to the ground, striking his head against some sharp obstacle and cutting a deep gash across his forehead.

The train was stopped and the injured man picked up and brought to Greensboro, where he was given medical attention.

MISS PACKARD INSANE.

This is the Opinion of a Celebrated Scientist—Dr. Wilkinson Will be Charged With Abduction.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 23.—Dr. Robert H. Chase, one of the most celebrated scientists in the country, has examined Miss Josephine Packard, who eloped with her brother-in-law, Dr. Howard M. Wilkinson, from Dover, Del., gives the opinion that she is mentally unbalanced. He advises her immediate subjection to treatment.

Wilkinson will probably be indicted at Dover for abduction, a crime that is punishable by long term imprisonment in that State.

Messrs. Clegg Recover Their Dray.

Messrs. W. F. Clegg & Bro. have recovered their dray, which has been lost since last Saturday night. It was found in the rear of J. L. King & Co.'s old tobacco factory, in a deep cut into which it was probably rolled by a crowd of boys on devilment bent.

The Prettiest Waiter at the Lawn Party.

Miss Tillie Tatum was awarded the prize for being the prettiest waiter at the Gate City Band's lawn party last night. The prize was a large and handsome bouquet of fragrant flowers.

DEAD TREES AT THE BATTLE GROUND

Vice-President Morehead Writes of the Wrong That Thoughtless People Are Doing—Escorts May Have to Accompany Their Young Lady Friends Back Home on "Footback."

To the Editor of the Telegram:

There has been an enjoyable outing of young ladies and gentlemen from Greensboro to the Battle Ground upon "every" moonlight night this summer. Could we have proof more conclusive of the desire, ability or necessity of this park for the city? Colonel Osborne's recent success and that of others before him show the grounds to be an ideal spot for barbecues and Brunswick stews. Our polite local physicians, at their last State convention here, at once tendered their visitors an outing to the Battle Ground, which was declined with much regret, solely because press of business prevented. To my knowledge, district and State Church assemblages in Greensboro have failed to meet under the grand pavilion, only because the trolley line was not yet completed. The above is not only proof that the park is a necessity to the city, but it is also most gratifying to the Battle Ground Company. They feel that their own and the town's labor and expenditures have not been in vain; and they see also in the above the growing popularity of the Battle Ground project that argues well for its future. I regret that this article can not close here; but, for the protection of the grounds and the comfort and pleasure of future visitors, it is necessary to speak further. The destruction of shade trees, especially near the restaurant and Clyde spring, is shameful. We have had the forethought and undergone the labor and expense of erecting six large horse racks within little less or more than one hundred steps just west of the restaurant, and many elsewhere, and have posted at many points large placards, inviting and directing visitors to hitch to these racks and posts and not to the trees. Those reasonable and necessary instructions are by many wholly disregarded.

Thoughtlessness in youth is to be expected, but it kills the tree and will not be tolerated. When grown men threaten and abuse our keeper, as they do while in the discharge of his duty, they will be turned over to the courts. Every horse hitched to a tree will hereafter be impounded and held until costs are paid; or, better still, turned loose to go home. Escorts can then accompany their young ladies to the city "footback" by night and reckon at sun up with prospective mothers-in-law.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH M. MOREHEAD,
Vice-Pres. G. B. G. Co.

Young Patriots.

The Greensboro recruiting office today sent off two new men for army service. They are Joseph K. Daily, of Greensboro, and Sydney D. Kizer, of Mizpah, N. C. The former goes to Fort Slocum, N. Y., and will be assigned to duty with the heavy artillery. Kizer will be assigned to Battery E, Second Artillery, at Fort Fremont, S. C.

Goes Back to the School Room.

Mr. W. S. Crawford, who has been connected with The Greensboro Patriot for the past few months, has given up his position and will go back to teaching. He will be principal of a school at Elkin. He formerly taught at Summerfield.

Mr. Crawford went to Orange county this afternoon to spend a few days with his parents before going to Elkin.

Camp Meeting Closed.

The Muir's Chapel camp meeting closed last night, having been in progress since Saturday night. It usually runs for over a week, but on account of the sickness of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Pegram, and other causes, it was deemed best to close it last night.

The closing sermon was preached by Rev. S. T. Barber. A large congregation was present.

Negroes For the Philippines.

Capt. Z. B. Vance, in charge of the recruiting stations at Greensboro and Charlotte, has received orders from the War Department to enlist all the able-bodied colored men he can get for army service in the Philippines. They are wanted for the Twenty-fifth Infantry and other commands.

A MATTRESS FACTORY.

A Gentleman Who Knows Says One Would Pay Well in Greensboro--The Enterprise Would Require But Little Capital.

In speaking of the possibilities of small manufacturing enterprises a gentleman told The Telegram today that he knew of no small manufactory that would pay better in Greensboro than a mattress factory. This gentleman has had aburdant experience in the business and says it is very profitable. Not a great deal of capital is required to start, and a ready sale may always be found for the product. Mattress factories often pay as much as 50, and even 100, per cent. on the investment.

With the proper management, an enterprise of this kind in Greensboro would undoubtedly pay handsomely. Material and labor may be had here as cheaply as anywhere, while the local demand would consume the entire product of a plant of moderate proportions.

The gentleman in question says he would gladly take stock in a mattress factory for Greensboro. There is already some work done in this line in Greensboro, but more would pay.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.

The Band Rendered Charming Music, But The Refreshment Tables Were Poorly Patronized.

The Gate City Band's open air concert on the court house square last night was a most enjoyable affair. The music was of a high class and was rendered in a manner to win the applause of the crowd. The band has made great improvement, reflecting much credit upon the members.

Cream, cake and other refreshments were served, but this feature of the occasion was not as popular with the crowd as the concert proved to be. The refreshment stands were poorly patronized. Not enough was sold to defray expenses. For this reason the concert and lawn party will be repeated at the same place tonight.

The band will present a new program, assuring all who may attend a delightful evening.

The Greensboro public should feel sufficient interest in the band to patronize it on every possible occasion.

THE HOG PEN NUISANCE.

People Still Kicking--Others Think Hogs Are Necessary and Convenient.

People are still kicking about the prevalence of hog pens inside the city limits and saying they should be abolished by a city ordinance. In all towns the hog pen has always proved to be a source of trouble until relegated beyond the city limits. Of course there are people who object to this procedure. This objection has been known to be so serious as to defeat an entire Board of Aldermen for re-election.

There are those in Greensboro who think the hog pen necessary and beneficial. They argue that the large quantity of melons and fruit consumed during the summer months makes it advisable to keep hogs to devour the rinds, peelings and other waste material.

Two Marriages in the Country.

Mr. W. C. Tucker and Miss Ella Vance McCulloch, who reside in the Tabernacle neighborhood, were married yesterday afternoon. The groom is a brother of Mr. E. R. Tucker, of the grocery firm of Tucker & Erwin.

Mr. John T. Plott, of Catawba county, was married to Miss Nina Starr, at the home of the bride's parents, south of town, yesterday afternoon. The bride and groom came to Greensboro and boarded the southbound fast mail yesterday evening for their future home in Catawba.

A Big Contract.

The Cape Fear Lumber Company has just closed a contract to furnish 200 door and window frames and other building material for the DeKalb and Seneca Cotton Mills, at Columbia, S. C. This is one of the many recently organized cotton mills in the Palmetto State, and work on the buildings has just commenced.

Situation at Akron.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Akron, O., Aug. 24.—Akron resembles a military camp this morning. Armed sentries patrol every street near the scene of the riot. Twelve companies are now in camp.

CANVASSING BOARD'S WORK.

AMENDMRNT MAJORITY IS 53,932

The Big Riffle the State Fair Is Preparing to Make—To Provide Means for Holding the Senatorial Primary—Gen. Carr to Equip the Soldiers' Hospital—Not Willing for Him to Do All—The A. & M. Expects to Open Well—Crops Improving.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, August 24.—The State Board of Canvassers, created by the new election law, met yesterday at noon; present Gov. Russell, Secretary of State Thompson, Walter E. Neal, J. D. McNeill, W. G. Lamb and Mr. Wilson. The four last are also members of the State Board of Elections. The tabulations of the returns of the vote on the constitutional amendment and for State officers by this board is simply for the information of the public. The returns were received by the Secretary of State. The determination of the vote rests with the legislature, which body will make up an entirely different set of returns. The returns thus referred to are now all in the safe of Secretary of State Thompson, and are addressed to the Speaker of the House, in care of Secretary Thompson. The Board of Canvassers first took up the returns of the vote on the amendment, after it had organized by electing Walter Neal President, and appointed Marshall Delancy Haywood and Charles Lambeth clerks. In a couple of hours the returns were tabulated, and the addition began. It will be remembered that up to last Monday three counties, Person, Wilkes, and Rutherford, had not sent in returns. These were, however, all received by Wednesday.

The vote for the constitutional amendment is found to have been 182,217, that against it 128,285. Majority, 53,932.

The vote for judge of the Western Criminal Circuit was H. B. Stevens 12,701, J. E. Alexander 11,048. Majority, 653.

The returns are said by the board to be unusually accurate.

The executive committee of the State Fair met this afternoon, Charles McMame in the chair. Among the members present were Julian S. Carr, Walter Clark, James A. Bryan, R. H. Battle, W. S. Primrose, J. C. L. Harris, A. M. McPheeters, Julian Lewis, W. A. Withers, George Allen, F. O. Moring, Bennehan Cameron, C. W. Busbee, Perrin Busbee, R. B. Raney, and John Nichols. Report of the progress in the executive department was made. Special premiums are offered the school which has the greatest number of students at the fair, and that which has the largest percentage of students at the fair (both outside of Raleigh.) The buildings at the fair grounds were ordered to be repainted. A special committee on military was appointed, composed of J. C. L. Harris, F. B. Arendell and F. A. Olds. It is the idea to offer valuable prizes, to be competed for in drill, and to have a camp for troops; the judges to be all officers of the regular army. The Wright cornet band, of Raleigh, was employed to furnish music during the fair. A bureau of information was founded, the duty of which will be to secure quarters for all visitors, to what is going to be the greatest State fair yet held. A good report of progress in regard to athletic sports was made.

Tom Jones, the negro to be hanged here next Friday, for murdering and burning six members of a negro family, made a full confession yesterday to fellow prisoners.

The Democratic State committee is called to meet here at 8:30, September 5th, to provide means for holding the Senatorial primay as prescrbed in the resolutions of the late State convention and for the transaction of other business connected with the national campaign.

The Confederate Veterans who came to be present at the unveiling of the Vance statute, returned home today. All the military returned last night except the Newbern division of naval malitia, which left this morning after having saluted the Vance statute and the Confederate monument.

A great many people viewed the statute today. All are pleased with it. Mrs. Vance is much impressed with it. Mrs. Vance has been the recipient of much attention and is the guest of Mrs. Charles M. Busbee.

The Confederate Veterans' meeting last night was well attended. It was held in the Senate chamber, and the best speech was made by Brig. Gen. J. G. Hale, of Hickory, in which he pleaded for aid by the State for the Soldiers Home. It was stated by Joseph S. Allen, of Raleigh, that the $5,000 hospital at the Home, built by order of the Legislature, would be ready for occupancy October 1, but would be entirely unfurnished. "Baldy" Boden, of Salisbury, immediately said that this would never do; that the veterans must furnish the hospital and pledged the Rowan camp for five beds, 10 if necessary. A Mecklenburg delegate said he pledged his county for ten cots, twenty if necessary. In an instant Maj. General Julian S. Carr took the floor and said he would himself personally equip the hospital with anything it required.

There was a resolution which was discussed, asking the State to give the Veterans a week in camp each year, and to constttute their retired members of the State Guard. This was lost as it was plainly stated that whatever the State could do or would do for the Veterans ought to be done for the Soldiers' Home; that it was the one great need. It was also stated that there are on file 100 applications for admissions to the Home which cannot be granted, because of lack of funds and room General Carr is again the president of the Home.

The officer in direct charge of the Home says the Veterans are really unwilling that General Carr shall bear the whole burden of equipping the hospital; that they will do all they can to that end and he can do the balance; that last year he supplied the Home for four months with provisions when it was in straits, and that all this year he has furnished it with flour.

The Board of Agriculture meets here next week and will officially participate in the convention of the Commissioners of Agriculture of the Cotton States.

The cotton dealers here note some improvement in cotton this week. Thanks to the rains. There was a heavy rain and electric storm here last night.

The State charters the Church Lumber Company, of Salem; F. H. Fries and others stockholders.

There were no less than 4,500 visitors to the State museum yesterday. It is North Carolina's best object lesson.

President Winston, of the A. & M. College, says it is already plain that for the session which begins Sept. 5th there will be a great number of applicants for admission, more than there is room for. He has reserved twenty rooms in West Raleigh, near the college, and says students over 21 years of age can room in Raleigh. There are several students over 21. Two new students are married and have rented houses near the college. The college now teaches what one wishes taught. The two married students will study electrical engineering. Dormitory room is urgently needed at the college for, at the very least, 200 more students. There is also special need for a large building, in which would be the chapel, auditorium, gymnasium, armory, society halls, library and reading room, all under one roof.

Stanhope Pullen gave the State the college grounds and the city the park adjoining, 140 acres in all—a very noble gift. The city ought to erect a bronze statue of Mr. Pullen and place it in front of the college.

BRYAN NOTIFIED BY POPULISTS.

SENATOR BUTLER WAS NOT PRESENT.

In His Absence Jerry Simpson Acts as Master of Ceremonies—All the Preliminary Speaking Cut Short—Another Notification Also Received--Mr. Bryan Gets a Big Non-Partisan Welcome.

Topeka. Kan., Aug. 23.—William J. Bryan today received the second official notification of his nomination for the presidency. This notification came from the Populist party, and Thomas M. Patterson, of Colorado, acted as the mouth-piece of the party in making it. Mr. Bryan was at the same time informed of the endorsement of his candidacy by the United States Monetary League, this notification being given by A. W. Rucker. The ceremonies occurred in the spacious and beautiful grounds of the State capitol, and were witnessed by a large number of people. In many respects the meeting paralleled the Indianapolis notification. This was true in the fact that both were held in parks; in that the weather was intensely hot and that the impatience of the crowd compelled the speakers preceding Mr. Bryan to curtail their remarks. Indeed, not one of the speakers was permitted to speak at the length he had counted upon, and as a result the entire proceeding covered only about an hour and a half. An audible sigh of relief from the sweltering crowd mingled with the applause which greeted the appearance of the national leader upon the platform when he arrived at 3:30 o'clock, and it was evident even then that while there was a general desire to hear and see him the audience was finding the situation too uncomfortable to be long endured. There was a little delay after the arrival of Mr. Bryan and the other notables. State Chairman Ridgeley, of the Populist party, promptly assumed the chair and he immediately introduced James A. Troutman, who, as the representative of the mayor of Topeka, made a brief speech, welcoming Mr. Bryan to the city. Mr. Troutman was formerly Lieutenant Governor of the State and he is a Republican in politics. His speech was personally complimentary to Mr. Bryan and was further an appeal for the exercise of the franchise by all good and intelligent citizens as the best safeguard of our institutions. He referred to the "vast throng of people before him as an evidence of high regard in which the distinguished visitor is held and said that while he was not authorized to assure Mr. Bryan of the electoral vote of Kansas, he could assure him of the admiration of every citizen of the state. Mr. Troutman was followed by Frank Doster, chief justice of the state, who extended the welcome of the state at large. Judge Doster contented himself with contrasting the positions of the Democrats and Republicans on the subject of expansion, taking the position that the Republicans were looking to undue aggression, while the Democrats were seeking to secure the maintenance of American institutions. He was liberally cheered.

Mr. Doster was followed by ex-Congressman Jerry Simpson, who was introduced as the permanent chairman, in the absence of National Chairman Butler, Mr. Simpson compared Mr. Bryan with Lincoln and predicted that he would lead the people back to the landmark of human liberty which Lincoln had so materially assisted in establishing. "Let us trust," he said, "that Nebraska and Kansas, standing side by side as in 1860, will again give their support to a candidate who has, as the candidate of that time had, but one code of morals, which embraces, as did Lincoln's, all men of all times, regardless of color or environment." With this, Mr. Simpson introduced Mr. Patterson, who, as chairman of the national Populist convention, became chairman of the notification committee. Mr. Patterson was received with applause and his brief speech was loudly cheered. Judge A. W. Rucker, who conveyed to Mr. Bryan the information of his endorsement by the United States Monetary League, also outlined his speech owing to the heat. He made a number of points which met with the approval of the auditors. When Mr. Rucker took his seat, Mr. Simpson introduced Mr. Bryan, who was received with a burst of applause. Mr. Bryan read the greater part of his address from manuscript and the delivery consumed about 40 minutes. When he ceased speaking those present were invited to shake hands with him, and many availed themselves of this opportunity to formally greet him.

Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as the sunbeam. —Milton.

Too Many Sensible Men for That.

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

On August 3d, the national campaign began in North Carolina. On that day the public drew a long breath of relief as it faced a future free from the racial question in politics. This hope was based not only upon the fact that this question had been settled but upon promises that ths election of August 2, 1900 would forever relegate it to the dead issues. The people had a right to assume that they would no longer be under the necessity of determining their votes according to racial issues. Two weeks ago we expressed ourselves on this question in the Advocate. But since then there has arisen a belief that we will have a continuation of the discussion of the heated "negro question." How much justification there is for this belief we will not undertake to say. We incline, however, to the opinion that the whole danger has been magnified. There are too many wise men among to us to allow, under the circumstances, a further injection of the negro question into our political life. The emergency has been met, the question practically and temporarily settled, and our people look for and are determined to base the settlement of political issues on the personality of candidates and the principles of platforms. Let us have peace. In the dawning of the new day in the "Old North State, let us address ourselves as Christan citizens to the discharge of sacred obligations which fasten themselves upon black as well as white.

How to Make Lobster Salad.

Cut the meat of two small lobsters into small pieces. Add a little of the fat and coral. Then season with salt and pepper, and pour over enough mayonnaise dressing to moisten well. Put in the middle of a platter, garnish with lettuce leaves, pour over the remainder of the dressing, and put slices of boiled egg and olives over the top.

How to Write on Iron.

Take one tablespoonful of blue vitriol and put in a small bottle, putting in about one-third more water. Allow it to stand about an hour, then take and coat over any smooth surface of either iron or steel with lard, tallow, soap or beeswax, spreading evenly. Take a sharp pointed stick and write your name where you have coated over with the above. Then apply the blue vitriol by dipping the pointed stick in the bottle and applying to the letters marked out. Let it stand until the letters turn red, then wash off. It will be seen that, as soon as the water touches it, it will turn black. It burns the name right into a knife, so that years of wear cannot take it out.

How to Make Fruit Custard.

A good way of varying the simple custard is to put in each cupful before the custard is poured in a tablespoonful of either strawberry or raspberry jam. Dried or crystallized fruits are as good an addition as is the jam. Chocolate custards are made by adding to the custard mixture enough melted chocolate to give a rich color.

How to Make Chicken Jelly.

To make chicken jelly clean and disjoint a chicken, cut it into small pieces, break the bones and place it in a saucepan. Add one pint of cold water for every pound of chicken. Heat slowly and simmer until the meat falls from the bones. Strain, let it stand until cold, remove the fat and season it with salt, pepper and a small piece of lemon peel. Parsley, celery and bay leaves may be used for flavoring if they are desired. Turn into a mold and stand in a cold place to harden. This can be used for broth or soup by thinning slightly with boiling water.

How to Keep Cool.

A thoroughly wet blanket wrung out just enough to keep it from dripping and pinned over a door or window where the air strikes it will lower the temperature of a room several degrees. If you can manage to wet your awnings without drenching passersby, it tends to cool the atmosphere of your room.

How to Get Rid of Flies.

There are many remedies given whereby the house may be rid of flies. Almost as numerous are they as the little pests we see feed upon them and thrive, but the butchers and dairymen of Switzerland claim that the oil of bay rubbed on their shelves and about the walls rid their stalls and dairies of flies. It is also used in Paris to protect the chandeliers and picture frames from specking. This simple preventive may be had from any chemist, is inexpensive and is said to be effectual.

How to Make Potato Yeast.

One cupful of grated potato, one quart of boiling water, half a cupful of salt, half a cupful of sugar. When lukewarm, add half a cupful of yeast, let raise, can and keep in cool place or cellar. Two-thirds of a cupful for two loaves of bread.

"O. K." Passed on by the Court.

After certain business differences the Davis Paint Manufacturing company and the Metzger Linseed Oil company came to an agreement. Their lawyers drafted in concert a judicial decree satisfactory all around, marked it "O. K." and appended their signatures. Subsequently one of the companies wanted to back out. It set up the contention that the letters O. K. in such a use are mere slang and not binding.

An appellate court in Illinois pronounces this contention no good. The judges quote from the Century Dictionary the attempts to account for "O. K." by tracing it back to Andrew Jackson and (still further back) to Old Keokuk, whose name is borne by an Iowa city unto this day. They quote the dictionary definition, "All right; correct; now commonly used as an indorsement, as on a bill." They remark: "The definition undoubtedly gives that which is the universal conception and understanding. That is no doubt the sense in which the court understood it and the meaning the counsel intended to express."—Hartford Courant.

Intelligence of a Cat.

The latest story of the intelligence of pet cats comes from London. Mme. Portier, who owns the champion Blue Boy, tells an incident which happened recently and which, if true, undoubtedly places her pet cat in the front rank for intelligence.

While in Liverpool a short time ago she had occasion to speak to her sister in London through the telephone. Blue Boy heard her voice, recognized it and became most excited. She addressed him personally, and from that moment until her return he stuck close to the instrument.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

FRIDAY AUGUST 24, 1900.

SISTER FISH'S NEW-FANGLED FUNCTION.

We read with appetizing avidity a Newport special to the Philadelphia Record describing the very latest thing in "functions" among the "elight" at Newport. This was the effort of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, whom we read, "deserves the thanks of gaiety's devotees this summer, for she alone has been found willing to organize any distinctive entertainments. There is a charming novelty in Mrs. Fish's entertainments of late They are all based on the conventional idea of unconventionality and a desire to avoid formality. They give an excuse for dinners and suppers, and, lately, for moonlight bathing parties. Never in the history of entertainments was there such a unique Newport event, and the crowd of townspeople was so great outside of Crossways, Mrs. Fish's palatial Newport home, that a squad of policemen had to be sent for to keep them off the grounds There were two bands of music in attendance, and the music never ceased from 11 o'clock until the break of day."

We might remark in passing that if the Fishes had a Guilford Battle Ground to visit for moonlight picnics, they would be strictly in the swim. But this is by the way. A description of the party at Crossways must be given, being an international event, and sharing the public attention with the news from the various fronts where the dogs of war are unleashed.

This "crowning event of the season of 1900" was a barn dance, or "harvest festival dance." At the gateway of the "Crossways" were two huge mock pumpkins made into "Jack o' Lanterns," each twelve feet in circumference. Entertainingly we read:

As the guests arrived they tarried to view the spectacle on the grounds, transformed to represent fields of harvested grain, which had been put up in sheaves. Over to the west were two full-sized hay-stacks, decked with the scarecrows so familiar in the country districts. Three yoke of oxen were quietly resting after their hard day's toil hauling in the material required for the farmyard scene.

A bower of greens and wheat, with swamp cat-tails, formed a passage-way to the main hall. All around the hallway was a wainscoating of wheat seven feet deep, with thousands of sunflowers and poppies in clusters. Overhead were panels of agricultural implements, fruits and vegetables. At regular intervals large sheaves of corn and wheat straw were placed, tied with red ribbons and filled with red poppies, just as if it had been cut from the field outside the front door.

Wonderful effects were produced with the electric lights placed within flowers and inside of corn husks, from which the ears had been removed; also by the use of 300 sunflowers and 3,000 poppies and other field flowers. At one point, in a secluded corner, there rested hives of bees, and just over the tall Dutch clock in the hall was fixed a full-sized leghorn rooster.

The peasants' dance took place in the drawing room. All of the dancers were dressed in the Dutch, French and Hungarian peasant costumes. The drawing room was decorated entirely with green palms and garlands of field poppies and corn flowers.

Small tables were set up for the supper. The first course was served in soup dishes made from squashes, with knives and forks and spoons made from crooked neck squashes and carrots. The guests at these tables were seated on common board benches

After the supper the rooms were cleared and prepared for the cotillion, which was extended through the drawing room, hallway and dining room. It was led by Harry Lehr and was participated in by sixty couples.

Many unique favors were distributed, the list including hay rakes, scythes, little baskets of growing plants, miniature waterpots and reaping machines.

Fun was added to the affair by the harvest offerings presented to Mrs. Fish by the guests as they entered the villa. Each guest had something under his or her arm to place at the feet of the hostess.

There was a squealing of little pigs, a crowing of roosters, the clucking of hens; in fact, it sounded as if bedlam had broken loose. Mrs. Oelrichs had a duck under her arm, Harry Lehr a suckling pig, Mrs. Belmont a Shanghai rooster, Mr. Dolan a gander, Mrs. Ladenburg a chicken, and other guests had vegetables of all descriptions.

And lastly, we read that at "the end of the procession, and to cap the climax, appeared Herman Oelrichs struggling with a calf. He wanted to get it to Mrs. Fish, but the animal would not go, and it was only after impetus had been added at the rear that it was presented to the hostess." The "impetus" here referred to is not specified. However, there is little doubt that the obstreperous young bovine's tail was twisted. We are not informed what Mrs. Fish did with the calf when it was brought to her. Perhaps she gave Herman a word of encouragement on his skill as a calf boy and then let it go to its ma. What the calf thought of the proceedings is also omitted, unfortunately. This is unfair to him and the world, too.

We are not disposed to criticise an event of such moment, but it does appear a little incomplete. Mrs. Fish should have added a cornshucking, with its supper of chicken "stew," pumpkin pie, and a "leetle bit o' corn" for the workers.

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the Democratic newspapers of the State as to what issues the coming National campaign should be conducted upon. Some of them think that the fight should be upon the discussion of the principles of the two parties and that the negro issue should not be raised, while others hold out the idea that the negro issue still lives and that a negro is no less objectionable in a Federal office than in a State, county or township office.—Danbury Reporter.

That's news. Those of us who look at the matter in the first way mentioned by our contemporary have been indicted, tried and executed as McKinley organs, sell outs, negro lovers, and most horrible of all, have actually been called gold bugs. Among the papers of this class we note the Presbyterian Standard, the Biblical Recorder, the Raleigh Christian Advocate, the Christian Sun, Charity and Children, the Greensboro Patriot, Concord Tribune, Concord Standard, the Raleigh Post, the Charlotte Observer, the Monroe Enquirer, the Henderson Gold Leaf, the Durham Herald, the Newbern Journal, the Monroe Journal, and a number of others that we do not just now recall, beside a large number of individuals like Col. A. M. Waddell and Rev. J. E. White.

But what's the use? Haven't we all been already tried and convicted for high crimes and misdemeanors?

All honor to little Madame Dreyfus, who, not satisfied with her innocent husband's permission to live, but under a cloud and in retirement, has worked ceaselessly for a complete vindication of his honor.

Isn't the question of tube, or artisian, wells one that Greensboro ought to investigate well? Savannah, Ga., two or three times larger than Greensboro, is thus supplied.

The Asheville Citizen heads a local article "Deals in Dirt." Some newspaper efforts in North Carolina may be fittingly described by this name.

Southern Loan & Trust Company

Directors: E. J. STAFORD, B. H. MERRIMON, A. W. M'ALISTER, J. M. HENDRIX, A. M. SCALES, DAVID WHITE, J. S. HUNTER, E. P. WHARTON, R. G. VAUGHN, TREAS.

This cut represents a Home Savings Bank safe. The little safes are oxidized and copered steel boxes 4 by 3 3 by 2 inches in size, with three tumbler lock and made to resist great force.

The Southern Loan and Trust Company has arrarged to loan them free of charge to any person desiridg to open a savings account.

Money deposited in these safes can be taken ont only at our office (where the keys are kept) and when brought to us the amount is counted in your presence and placed to your credet on your pass book. 4 per cent interest, beginning the first day of any month succeeding the deposit, will be allowed on all deposits amounting to $5.00 and upwards provided they are continued for three full months.

ITS ADVANTAGES: You have in your home a bank always open for deposits. You can drop in small amounts you would not take to any bank, thus preventing you from spending it: as money kept loosely near at hand affords a continuous temptation to waste it. You cannot shake or get it out, as we hold the key; consequently do what you ought to, bring or send the bank to us, have its contents counted before you and placed to your credit with us, where it will be a continual reminder to you to add more to it. Many persons waste in life enough money to make them independent. DEPOSITORS WILL PLEASE NOTICE that any sums of money that they may not wish to deposit in the small bank safe may be brought to the office of the Trust Company and deposited on their pass books the same as on any ordinary savings account.

☞Money deposited on or before September 1st, bears interest from that date.

How to Make Honey.

Use four pounds of sugar to a quart of water, let slowly come to a boil, then skim. Add one-fourth ounce of pulverized alum. Remove from the fire and stir in one-half ounce of cream of tartar and a tablespoonful of rose extract. When cold it is ready for use.

How to Boil Eggs.

The best way to cook an egg is to put it into cold water and stand on a hot stove. Just before the water boils the egg is "soft boiled," and the white and yolk will be found to be evenly cooked. This manner of cooking allows the heat to permeate the egg evenly and does not bring the white to a leathery consistency while the yolk is still soft. Stale eggs are lighter in weight than fresh ones. A newly laid egg does not poach nicely and it requires half a minute longer to cook than a stale egg.

How to Remove Table Scars.

The unsightly white marks on tables made by standing overhot dishes upon them may be removed by the application of a little paraffin rubbed on to them with a piece of flannel. Afterward polish with alcohol.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

MRS. OLIPHANT'S LAST VERSES.

[Dictated on June 21, 1897.]

On the edge of the world I lie, I lie,
Happy and dying and dazed and poor,
Looking up from the vast great floor
Of the infinite world that rises above
To God and to faith and to love, love, love!
What words have I to that world to speak,
Old and weary and dazed and weak,
From the very low to the very high?
Only this, and this is all:
From the fresh green soil to the wide blue sky,
From greatness to weariness, life to death,
One God have we on whom to call,
One great bond from which none can fall;
Love below, which is life and breath,
And Love above, which sustaineth all.

I will have fresh from my farm for tomorrow's trade Lima Beans, Green Peas, Snap Beans, Squash, Okra, Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Green Peppers, Cabbage, Irish Potatoes, Sweet Potatoes, Fresh Watermelons.

"ADS" AS INVITATIONS.

When a man keeps a store, a shop or an office there is presumptive evidence that he wants custom; but when, in addition, he advertises in the public newspapers that he is ready to do business he issues a direct and particular invitation to the people to come to him and trade. Everybody has had experience with merchants and professional men who seemed to be reluctant to attend to patrons, if not resentful of their presence. Therefore, we all feel more free to go to the stores and offices of those who invite us, day after day, through the newspaper. Advertisements are assurances of welcome and attention.

Traits of the Khedive.

Abbas II, the khedive of Egypt, who is visiting in England, is a splendid linguist, speaking English, French, German and Italian, in addition to Turkish and Arabic. The khedive is a hard worker, and his day usually begins at 5:30 in the morning. A story is told which illustrates this side of his character. His brother, Mehemet Ali, and himself had the same tutor in their childhood, but Prince Mehemet was indolent. A task was set them, but the younger brother shirked it.

"Come, prince," said the teacher; "it must be done."

"Prince, indeed!" exclaimed Abbas. "My brother is no prince when idle; he is only a fellah!"—New York Tribune.

BOUND TO END HIS LIFE.

Cut Wrists and Fired Five Balls Into Head and Breast. In Spite of Such Bloody Work Benjamin Tuteur is Still Alive in the Hospital.

Philadelphia Record.

Benjamin Tuteur, of No. 627 Fairmount Avenue, a well-known clubman and a brother of Morris Tuteur, the Twelfth ward politician, made a desperate attempt to commit suicide last evening, at the rooms of the Belmont Driving Association, Maennerchor Hall, Franklin street and Fairmount avenue. Tuteur gashed his wrists with a pen-knife in an attempt to bleed to death, and failing at that he fired three shots in his head and two in his left breast.

In spite of the terrible wounds, Tuteur failed to accomplish his purpose, and was carried, fully conscious, to the Children's Homoeopathic Hospital, where his recovery is regarded as improbable. His first attempt to end his life is believed to have been made while he was surrounded by friends, and ignorant of his purpose they left him alone, when he shot himself, after locking himself in the room.

For nearly six months Tuteur has suffered from nervous prostration, and, being unable to get relief in sleep he sought to end his life. On Tuesday night he made two late trips on the trolley to Willow Grove, in the hope of quieting his nerves, but yesterday morning he told his friends that it had been in vain. Yesterday afternoon he visited Tagg's Maennerchor Hall, where he met a number of old friends. They noticed his despondency, and, wishing to make him forget his ailment, they engaged him in a lively game of pinochle.

Tuteur seemed to be enjoying himself to the utmost, when he suddenly lost interest in the game, and became very morose. By the pool of blood found afterward under the table he evidently slipped out his pocketknife, and, putting his hands under the table, deliberately cut both rists and suffered the pain in silence.

How long this would have continued cannot be said, but when his friends left the room for a minute Tuteur securely locked himself in and, placing his revolver at his left breast, fired two shots in quick succession.

Both balls entered the tip of the left lung and failed in the attempt to hit his heart. Tuteur next pressed the revoler to his head and fired three more shots. Two of them entered the side of his head and the third penetrated over the eye, but the 22-calibre pistol was too light, and none of the bullets entered the brain.

At the sound of rapid firing Tuteur's friends rushed to the room and, breaking open the door, found the prostrate man still conscious.

"Oh, my family and my friends!" he cried. "I wish I could have finished this job." He was taken to the hospital, where the bullets in his head were removed, but those through the lung could not be located.

Tuteur was for a long time employed in the Custom House, and for many years has been a prominent member of the Belmont Driving Association and other organizations. He has a wife and two children.

EXAMINATIONS AT THE UNIVERSITY.

The Summer Session of the University, just closing, has been well attended and excellent work has been done. This session includes the Teachers School, the Summer Term and the Summer Law School. The total number has been 145.

The prospects for the coming session are most encouraging. There have been an unusual number of applications for rooms and everything points to a large attendance. The Carr Dormitory stands ready for occupation and the exterior work upon the Alumni building is practically complete The filter, engine, etc. for the water works have come and work upon this will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Examinations for entrance will begin on September 12th, and continuing three days. The fall registration of students will be held on September 13, 14 and 15th.

Glazed Chicken With Asparagus Tips—The Latest Picture Frames. Laundering Shirt Waists.

Singe and draw a fine roasting chicken weighing from five to six pounds. Dip the breast in boiling water for two minutes, then in cold water to make the meat firm. Dry with a towel. Have at hand, in bowl of ice water, to make the process easier, one-half pound of larding pork cut in small strips, with which and a a fine larding needle lard the breast. Put the balance of the larding pork in a braisiere with the chicken and one tablespoonful of butter, two good sized onions, sliced, two sprigs of parsley, one tablespoonful of salt, one saltspoonful of pepper, and brown for 12 minutes before adding two gills of good stock. Cook till entirely reduced, taking care to turn the chicken to give it a golden color all over. Add one quart of good stock, cover tightly, and cook slowly for one hour and a quarter. Put the chicken on a platter, remove the string, and garnish with asparagus tips previously cooked for 18 minutes in plenty of boiling salted water.

Skim the fat from the gravy of the chicken, strain, and pour half over the asparagus, putting the other half in a sauceboat. The quantity of the gravy, to be good and rich, should have been reduced to half a pint. Should there be more, take the chicken from the saucepan and keep warm while the gravy is reduced to the right quantity over a brisk fire with the saucepan uncovered.

If a chicken of the correct size is not obtainable, capon will serve even better for this dish.—Harper's Bazar.

valance, and draping about the windows heavy net curtains of some ecru or ivory tint. These curtains are draped across each window in the artistic fashion shown in the accompanying picture.

Latest Picture Frames.

The latest photograph frames are made after the styles of a miniature frame, either round or oval. The thick rim of silver or gilt is suspended from a bar attached to a length of red, white and blue ribbon. This ribbon is fastened into a wide bow of silver hooked on to a little silver easel. The effect is novel and charming. The frames are made in two sizes, the smaller for only a head, the larger to show the head and shoulders. This is called the "military frame."

Another has been dubbed the "hero frame." In this the bow of silver which surmounts the ribbon gives place to a wreath of laurel suspended over a plain silver bar on which is inscribed the name, date or inscription.

There is a variety of the "military frame" called the "college frame," when, in place of the red, white and blue ribbon, a bit of college color of the one within the frame is used.

Another war novelty is a little pigskin leather case the size of an ordinary square envelope. It is intended to be carried in a soldier's pocket. It is fitted with white note paper, envelopes and indelible pencil.

Glass Refuse Pavement.

In Geneva glass refuse is pressed in paving blocks under a new invention that has recently been put into operation. Several streets have already been paved with this new contrivance, and it gives great satisfaction, not only in appearance, but also in durability. Several other cities in Europe have adopted the invention.

Biggest and Best.

THE GATE CITY STEAM LAUNDRY is now prepared to do all kinds of laundry in the very best style. Having recently put in a large new mangle with a lot of other new machinery we can afford to do your work as cheap as can be done anywhere and guarantee entire satisfaction. We have also changed our wagons from green and red to white—they are not old wagons painted over, so please note the change and watch for the WHITE WAGONS—they will not hurt you and see that your laundry goes to THE GATE CITY, THE BIGGEST AND BEST,

HE HATED RULES.

But Found Them Very Handy on One Occasion.

One of the duties of the conductors and guards on the Northwestern suburban lines is to stick their heads into the cars as the trains reach the Chicago station and shout:

"Wells street depot! Do not forget your umbrellas!"

Sometimes they say "umbrellas and parcels," but they never substitute "don't" for "do not." The rule seems to be strict on that point.

Yesterday morning, when it was raining hard and the passengers were all soaked more or less, one of the conductor's assistants entered a car on a train from Winnetka as it was nearing the Chicago station and called out:

"Wells street! Do not forget your parcels and umbrellas!"

"Well," replied a tall, thin man who had evidently tramped through a mile or two of mud, "why don't you tell us not to forget our legs? It isn't very likely that anybody would forget an umbrella this morning. Some people seem to take it for granted," he went on, addressing the passengers sitting near him, "that the world is populated by nobody but fools. Now, what excuse would any man have to offer for leaving his umbrella behind on a morning like this? And even if he did so I guess he'd come back for it pretty soon after he stepped outside. But that's the trouble where people get to depending on set rules and shaping their daily conduct in accordance with them. They soon forget how to use any judgment. They get out of the knack of letting their actions be governed by circumstances. Wherever you lay down strict rules for people they soon get to be mere autom"—

The train had stopped, and the passengers began crowding toward the platforms. The man who was opposed to rules and regulations had almost reached the street when a young woman touched him on the arm and said:

"Excuse me! Is this yours? I was sitting behind you and saw it in the seat after you had gone out."

She held a small package toward him, and he grabbed it as if it had been a life preserver and he a drowning man in midocean.

"Great heavens! Yes!" he answered. "I forgot that. There's a set of spoons in this that my wife wants me to have marked with her initials and a piece of silk I must match today, or there'll be trouble when I get home. You've saved my life."

"I make it a rule to do such things whenever I can," the lady said as she hurried on.—Chicago Times-Herald.

GOOD FORM QUESTIONS.

How the Laws of Society Are Observed—Wedding Gifts.

The unwritten laws of society are constantly changing.

At a dinner small differences are more observable than at large and less "smart" functions, and there are many little things that it behooves an aspirant or a debutante to remember, says the New York Tribune. Women should not rise when a man is introduced to them; and they should also remain seated when an acquaintance greets them, putting out their hands to be shaken. Of course in the case of a hostess or of an old or particularly distinguished person this is different. A hostess will receive all her guests standing and do all she can to show polite hospitality, even accompanying them to the door of the drawing room if she feels so inclined when bidding them goodby.

One of the problems of modern social life is the wedding present, which was in danger of becoming a veritable tax unless restricted within proper bounds. "If I am asked to the breakfast, I send a present," said a fashionable woman recently. This is a rule that would be as uncomfortable for the recipient as for the donor if it were an accepted custom. It is really only necessary for intimate personal friends or relatives to send presents; and even then, as they are intended only to convey kindness of feeling and sentiment rather than commercial value. They should not be made a bugbear.

While on the subject of gifts, birthday presents are often puzzling. Here are a few suggestions for girls to give to girls. Useful remembrances are appreciated—bits of real lace, really beautiful sprays of artificial flowers, gloves, etc., to say nothing of more utilitarian gifts of lingerie or sash ribbons. As custom decrees that a man must confine his attention to bonbons and flowers, he may make his souvenir more lasting by putting the former in a valuable box or having the latter tied with a large bow of expensive ribbon.

The pronouns "I" and "my" are greatly to be avoided in general conversation. "I" do this or that; "my" children are so and so: "my" cook, "my" house, "my" equipages—such iteration sets terribly on the nerves of the listener, besides being in very bad form.

FACIAL BLEMISHES.

How to Treat Elementary Disorders of the Skin.

A great many elementary disorders of the skin are due in a great measure to want of exercise and an overabundant or a faulty diet. The remedy in either case is clear. Fresh air and wholesome living are the best factors in preserving a clear complexion and pure skin.

A frequent source of trouble is the appearance of small black specks. These specks appear even on the healthy skin, and their riddance is a matter of time. The face should be frequently washed with warm water and a really good sulphur soap, and the application of a mild sulphur ointment two or three times a week will also help the cure. A carbolic treatment is also to be recommended. A spoonful of carbolic lotion, specially prepared for toilet use, should be added to the basin of warm water and the face be washed with carbolic toilet soap twice daily. Use a rough Turkish glove or loofah when soaping the face, so that the specks are loosened, and dry the face with a roughish towel, afterward applying an astringent lotion.

This treatment ought to keep the skin clear and to prevent the black specks from increasing. A vapor face bath is also urged as a skin purifier, always remembering to close the pores afterward with a simple tonic. When the specks are obstinate, they should be removed with clean finger nails. Small red eruptions on the skin may also be treated with sulphur ointment or lotion, and it is often advisable to take in addition a blood purifier, such as flowers of sulphur.

How to Pickle Fish.

Take two onions, one shallot, one ounce of butter, one bay leaf, two sprigs of parsley, half a pint of vinegar, one teaspoonful of salt, 12 peppercorns and six cloves. Wash and peel the onions and shallot and put in a lined saucepan with the other ingredients. Give one boil; then draw aside and let the pickle stand in a warm place for half an hour. Strain over the fish, which should be boiled beforehand. It will be ready to eat in two days. This pickle is sufficient for a small quantity of fish only.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr John Oliver, of Philadeldhia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A FEW STICKS.

Some of the City's Doings Put in Condensed Form.

The Board of Aldermen meet tonight.

There will be prayer meeting at Westminister Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock.

A large crowd attended a picnic at Midway church, near McLeansville, yesterday.

Mr. J. D. Helms is having the sidewalk in front of his property on North Davie street paved.

The Gate City Band's open air concert and lawn party will be repeated on the court house green tonight.

Wilmington Messenger: Portable spittoons will be in use in Greensboro since the anti-spitting law was adopted. It is anti-American to expectorate now unless it be bad politics and vindictive malediction.

Mr. Eugene Sykes, a registered pharmacist of Fayetteville, is filling the position of prescription clerk at Gardner's drug store during the illness of his brother, Mr. Archie Sykes.

At a meeting of Greensboro Council No. 13, Jr. O. U. A. M., last night, it was decided to give a social entertainment for the benefit and pleasure of the members at some time in the near future.

Mr. S. L. Alderman has just completed some handsome photographs of the running team of the Southside Hose Company, which won the championship gold belt for the second time at the recent firemen's tournament in Wilmington.

KITCHEN ECONOMY.

How to Make Two Good Dishes—Suggestions For Young Housewives.

It is common for young housewives to believe that because nothing is allowed to go to waste in their kitchens the strictest economy is being observed. With this in view, and no end of using left overs in mind, expensive meats are purchased without regard to the quantity required. But porterhouse or sirloin steak or legs of spring lamb are no better for stews, meat pies, croquettes, souffles, ragouts or casseroles than are the cheaper cuts. Neck and shoulder pieces are equally delicious and cost 50 per cent less. The wise housekeeper consequently buys her roasts and steaks carefully, planning as closely as possible to have little left after the meal for which she provides them, and for her entrees purchases the equally juicy, fully as nourishing, but less costly meats.

To make a ragout, boil a piece of the rump or round of beef, or of the forequarter of mutton or of veal until it is nearly done. Let it get cold and cut it into small pieces. Dust them with flour, salt and pepper; put two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and when it bubbles add the meat. Cook it until it browns. Add the water in which the meat was first boiled and cook for two or three hours. Then add a can of small mushrooms and stir into the boiling mixture a tablespoonful of flour that has been rubbed smooth in a little cold water and cook again for ten minutes. Place in the center of a platter and arrange around it a border of potato. Currant jelly, a tablespoonful of curry powder or a trace of cayenne may be used to vary the seasoning.

A delicious fricassee of lamb may be made by cutting the neck and shoulder into small pieces, dredging it with flour which has been seasoned with salt and pepper and sauteing it in butter until it is brown. The next step is to add to it hot water to more than cover it and cook slowly until the meat falls from the bones. Remove the bones, return the meat to the stewpan, add a slice of onion, a small tomato and cook for half an hour. Remove the onion, put the meat in the center of the platter and arrange dumplings around it. Serve the sauce, of which there should be plenty, in a gravy boat separately.

The Supreme Court.

The United States supreme court, on adjournment recently for the summer, left 304 cases undisposed of on its docket. The same number were left undisposed of on its adjournment for the summer last year. Three hundred and seventy new cases were filed during the term now finished, and in exactly the same number of cases the court heard arguments or accepted briefs.

A real scene of troops in action hardly exists. Pictures of them are taken at odd spells and out of danger's reach, guns and troops being used for the purpose.
